

STUDENTS AND TELECOMMUNICATION DEVICES

In recognition mobile phones are important tools for communication, work, and safety, appropriate phone use will be expected on all campuses. At the same time, face to face and non-verbal communication skills are fundamental to human relationships.

In support of developing both of these communication skills, Eastmont allows student cell phone use during an emergency and as described below:

Grade K-6 students

May use cell phones before and after school, but not during the school day.

Grade 7-12 students

May use cell phones during the day other than when in class or instructed to put them away.