Who are school directors?

Washington state's public school districts are governed by publicly-elected school boards. These board members—called “school directors”—are citizens just like you! They are parents and grandparents, young people and senior citizens, and diverse community members from all walks of life. There is great value in diversity on a school board. Each member brings their varying experiences and backgrounds to inform good decision making with a spirit of teamwork.

A statewide survey conducted by WSSDA shows that its members run for school board for two primary reasons: to give back to their community and to help children get a good education.

What does a school board do?

School directors work together to oversee the school district. As a board, their primary responsibilities are:

- Hire, supervise and evaluate the superintendent
- Set the vision, mission and strategic goals for the district
- Review, revise and adopt policies
- Establish and oversee the budget
- Serve as community representatives
- Monitor the district's progress toward its goals

WHERE CAN YOU FIND THE NEXT GREAT SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER?
Look in the mirror: it might be you.

Want to be a school director?

Here's how to get started:

- 1 For information on how to file, check the Washington Secretary of State's website sos.wa.gov/elections under the Candidates tab, call (360) 902-4180 or (800) 448-4881, or email elections@sos.wa.gov.
- 2 Find out which positions are up for election and verify that you are eligible to run for the office. You must be a registered voter and live within your school district boundaries. Some school director positions require that you live within a certain director area, so check to be sure you're qualified. Your local county elections department or school district office can help verify that you are eligible.
- 3 File during filing week, May 15–19, 2023. Candidates may file for an office online or in person at the local elections office.
- 4 Be aware of state requirements for all candidates and elected officials to file a financial disclosure statement and report all campaign finances to the Washington State Public Disclosure Commission (PDC). Annual filing is required if elected. More information can be found at pdc.wa.gov/learn.
